Cake Batter Oreo Cookies

 Recipe donated by Hannah Hopfensperger

ingredients

- 1 ¼ cups all-purpose flour (spoon & leveled)
- 1 ¼ cups yellow or vanilla boxed cake mix (I typically use vanilla cake mix)
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ¾ cup unsalted butter, softened to room temperature
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup (packed light brown sugar
- 1 egg, at room temperature
- 1 ½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- ⅔ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
- ½ cup sprinkles
- 10 Oreos, crushed into pieces (any flavor you like)

instructions

- In a large bowl, sift together flour, cake mix, and baking soda. Set aside.
- Using a hand mixer, cream the softened butter and both sugars together on medium speed until smooth. Add the egg and mix well, about 1 minute. Add the vanilla and beat on high until combined. Add the flour mixture to the wet ingredients and mix on low-medium speed until just combined. Add the chocolate chips, sprinkles, and crushed Oreos. Mix on low until the add-ins are evenly disbursed.
- Cover tightly with plastic wrap and refrigerate dough for at least 2 hours, or up to 3 days. If you chill longer than 2 hours, make sure you roll the cookie dough into balls after the 2 hour mark. Place dough balls on a plate, cover tightly, and store in the refrigerator until ready to bake.
- Once chilled, preheat oven to 350°F (177°C). Line two large cookie sheets with parchment paper or silicone baking mats.
- Scoop rounded balls of the cold dough onto an ungreased baking sheet. Use about 2 Tablespoons of cookie dough per cookie. Shape your cookie dough balls to be “taller” than they are wide. Press a few chocolate chips or crushed Oreo pieces into the tops of the cookie dough balls, if desired. That makes a pretty cookie. Make sure to keep dough chilled when working in batches.
- Bake the cookies for 10-12 minutes until edges are slightly browned. The centers will still appear very soft, but the cookies will set as they cool. You may also press a few more chips into the tops of the cookies at this point (the chips will melt down and stick from the warm cookies).
- Allow the cookies to cool on the baking sheet for 4 minutes and transfer to a wire rack to cool completely.

- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

- Add the egg and egg yolk: Scrape down the sides of the bowl. Mix to incorporate on medium speed. Repeat with the egg yolk, and then the red food coloring, mixing on slow speed to avoid splattering the red food coloring.
- Add the flour and cocoa powder: Mix on low
- Add the white chips: Add $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups of the baking chips to the dough, reserving $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of chips for topping the cookies.
- Shape the cookies: roll out 1-inch balls (heaping tablespoons) of dough, placing them on the prepared baking sheet.
- Bake the cookies, one baking sheet at a time, for 11 to 13 minutes or until the edges of the cookie are dry and set. The cookies will look a bit puffy and plump.
- While the cookies are still warm, press several white chips into the top of the cookies while they are still hot and puffy. Let the cookies cool on the baking sheet for 5 minutes before transferring the cookies to a wire cooling rack.

Banana Oatmeal Chocolate Chip Cookies

Recipe donated by Ximena Perez

ingredients

- 1 cup quick oats — I recommend quick oats over rolled oats, as the rolled oats will have a much firmer texture that is harder to chew
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup whole wheat pastry flour — or substitute white whole wheat flour or all-purpose flour
- 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons baking powder — I recommend aluminum free
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon kosher salt
- 1 large very ripe banana — enough to yield $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mashed
- 2 tablespoons virgin coconut oil — at room temperature (not melted) or unsalted butter
- 1 large egg — at room temperature
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup plus 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup dark chocolate chips

instructions

- Line a large baking sheet with parchment paper or a silicone baking mat.
- In a medium mixing bowl, stir together the oats, whole wheat pastry flour, baking powder, cinnamon, and salt until combined. Set aside.
- In a large mixing bowl or the bowl of a standing mixer fitted with the paddle attachment, mash the banana (I use the mixer to do this), checking to make sure you have $\frac{1}{2}$ cup. Add the coconut oil (or butter), egg, brown sugar, and vanilla extract and beat on medium high until very well combined, at least 3 minutes, stopping to scrape down the bowl as needed. The batter will be a little bit chunky and wet.
- Add dry ingredients, mix on low speed. Mix in the chocolate chips. The batter will be wet, somewhat loose, and sticky.
- With a large cookie scoop or a measuring cup, portion the dough in $\frac{1}{4}$ -cup amounts and drop them on the baking sheet. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours to allow the dough to firm up (the cookies will spread and not set properly if baked immediately), or cover the cookie sheet with plastic wrap and refrigerate for up to 2 days.
- Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Bake cookies for 10-13 minutes, until the cookies are dry set on the edges and feel set on top and a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.
- Let the cookies cool on the baking sheet for 10 minutes, then transfer to a wire rack to finish cooling completely
